Art Unit: 2635

1. This Office action is in response to the application filed February 6, 2001. Claims 42-101 are pending. The Examiner is missing reference 287267 in the IDS filed February 11, 2004. The Examiner is also missing the Foreign Patents and other documents listed on the IDS filed April 20, 2001. It is requested that the documents be resubmitted for consideration.

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 42-79, and 83-99 drawn to a position detector, classified in class 341, subclass 20.
- II. Claims 80-82, drawn to a drive circuit, classified in class 324, subclass 603.
- III. Claims 100-101, drawn to a transducer, classified in class 324, subclass 207.13 or class 73, subclass 862.68.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

3. Inventions I and II-III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require the particular drive circuit or transducer. The subcombination has separate utility such as a drive circuit and transducer.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 2635

5. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: Species I pertains to a position detector wherein the excitation driver apply a sequence of voltage pulses across an excitation winding. Species II pertains to a position detector wherein the position detector modulates a decay time of a current loop. Species III pertains to a position detector wherein the excitation circuit applies a first potential difference across the ends of the excitation winding and a second potential difference across the excitation windings.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, none are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

6. A telephone call was made to Larry Nixon on November 17, 2004 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Albert K Wong whose telephone number is 571-272-3057. The examiner can normally be reached on M-Th.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Michael Horabik can be reached on 703-305-4704. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 703-872-9306.
